

Damage

Back to warmnm

Wounds

Damage to the body stops the use of muscles, causes pain and blood loss, fatigue and death (note - I did not say "eventual death" because lets face it, the first blow could be a lucky blow and prove instantly fatal).

Concussion

Yet another reason why a head shot is a favourite strike.

Blood Loss

The body only has so much blood. With its gradual loss, fatigue sets in - as well as light headedness, then fainting, then death.

Pain

Often overlooked - for some reason most rules assume adrenaline blocks out all pain. It doesn't...
