

No Biological Needs Guy

By Supreme Serpent (original post)

Nondescript, neatly but not expensively dressed man, always appears recently groomed. Never seen to eat, drink, smoke, etc. Listening for sounds in his room will never hear the water running, toilet flushing, etc. Bed is always still made, though might have indication of someone sitting on it or placing items such as a suitcase on it, but it never looks slept in or on. If people rifle through his hotel records, there are no restaurant or room service charges (or, if you want to throw a small loop in - one charge for club soda - he used it to get out a stain). If someone blows smoke in his face, he will not cough, or even blink more than normal.
