What Is That Smell?

By Sketchpad (original post)

There's one apartment that stinks of unexplainable odor. What is known is that the smell isn't pleasant, nor is a something that stays in one area. Once the smell starts, it lingers through the entire hotel, almost causing people to leave early. The few instances it's been traced, people have found that it leads to one of the older floors and to a wall that has been painted to match the rest of the halls in the hotel.
