Background

Back story in dot points (to expand)

- Born in a Skyloft city
- Father was a playboy gadgeteer; mother divorced father after one affair too many
- I have an older twin who is exalted for... This has meant that I am quite shy. I am also sensitive to similar behavior among others, (unfortunately one of the crew members also does this which annoys me intensely).
- I had a life waiting for me working with father but relations with my brother made this untenable
- I left home to find a life away from the shadow of my brother. I went to one of the Neobedouin tribes that my family traded with.
- They took me in and I lived with them. Some skills I never really got the hang of but I did learn to drive the different vehicles that they use quite well.
- Eventually I separated from the tribe and was looking for the next
