

Elven Physiology

Basically Tolkeinesque:

Tall, thin, not fast but graceful (they do have time on their hands after all). They usually appear to non-Elves to be thinking about at least 2 things at any given time. Skin colour varies with sub-race and weather conditions.

All Elves are tall, thin, and not as strong as Humans. High Elves have gold tinged skin, Wood Elves tan, Sea Elves olive and Dark Elves are pale. The Elven Council is made of a mixture of Elven races.

These are just stereotypes however. There can be a fair degree of variation.
